Dinner, buffet at Times Restaurant in the Zhongguanyuan Global Village (Shown on the map labeled as 3)

Near Campus

Restaurants near campus are neat, cheap and tasty. However, the service may not be excellent, and sometimes they are crowded. You may have difficulty in ordering if you do not speak Chinese. Still, it is a good choice to have a quick lunch there.

There are some restaurants along the road opposite the south gate of PKU, and most of them serve Chinese food. Among them are DaiJia 傣家云南米线 in Yunnan Style, Yipinxiaolong 一品小笼 famous of beam meat bun, etc. (Shown on the restaurant map labeled as A)

Go out of the residential subdistrict in which the hotel stands, go east along the Chengfu Road 成府路 about 500meters to LanQiYing area 蓝旗营, you will find some Chinese restaurants serving Yunnan food, Sichuan food, hot-pots, porridge and bar etc. (Shown on the restaurant map labeled as B)

If you find the above not attractive enough, you can go a little farther. Walk along the road towards east for about 500-1000 meters to the area of WuDaoKou 五道口, dozens of restaurants in various styles will be within your sight. If you like to have a taste of family food, KFC 肯德基 and Pizza Hut 必胜客 can also be found there. There are also some coffee houses and Korean restaurants. Go and have a try; and they will not fail you. (Shown on the restaurant map labeled as C)

Note

Ordering food is not a problem for foreigners at big restaurants because the waiters speak English and the menu is in English. But in small restaurants, it may be a difficult job. Some of them will provide you with the pictures of the dishes, but when they do not, an easiest way is to ask the restaurant to make recommendations of their own delicacies, or let them point to your phrasebook to tell you the ingredients of the dishes, and a third way is to point to what the others are eating. It is suggested that you ask for a detailed bill and keep the receipt.
